

BIO: MERRILL BOLENDER

June 2020

In 1948, as a twelve-year-old farm boy in southern Ohio, Merrill clearly heard the Lord saying, "You will be a voice in the wilderness, saying "Prepare the way of the Lord." For many years, this word was a mystery but over the past 71 years the call and vision has become clearer.

During the Cold War, 1985–86, they went with a delegation from across the USA to the Soviet Union. They visited with Jewish families in Leningrad and Moscow that had applied to immigrate to Israel, but were refused and thus referred to as "refusniks." They, and other prayer groups at different times, interceded on Red Square for God to speak to "Pharaoh," "Let My people go!" and, if necessary, visit plagues on the Soviet Union to bring her to her knees so the Jewish exodus could take place. After Chernobyl, drought, failed expansionist invasion in Afghanistan, the Cold War bankrupting the Soviet economy, a major earthquake in Armenia . . . the miracle happened. The Iron Curtain collapsed and the exodus began resulting in well over a million Jews making their exodus to Israel.
